INDIVIDUAL AWARDS

Outstanding First-Year Student Award

This award is designed to recognize the early accomplishments of first-year students at The Ohio State University. Any undergraduate, first-year student (no more than one completed semester at the time of application) is eligible for this award. Applicants must be in good academic standing with at least a 2.5 GPA. The period of eligibility includes involvement/experiences from Summer 2018 to present. The committee will recognize those students who have demonstrated leadership at the college level, and whose reflection statements demonstrate potential for great leadership at Ohio State.

A successful applicant will articulate how their definition of "leadership" has evolved since beginning college, demonstrate involvements that align with personal values, describe responsibilities and accomplishments related to involvement, and illustrate awareness of personal strengths and weaknesses. Students may apply on their own behalf, or be nominated by a faculty/staff/student.

Application Requirements: Online application, resume, recommendation letter. If you are nominating a student for this award, the letter of recommendation must come from a different faculty/staff member.

Outstanding Senior Award

The Outstanding Senior award is among the highest honors conferred to undergraduate student leaders. This award recognizes less than 1% of graduating seniors who excel in leadership, service, and scholarship throughout their tenure at Ohio State. Applicants must be in good academic standing with at least a 2.5 GPA. Any undergraduate student who graduates in Spring, Summer, or Autumn of 2019 is eligible for this award. A successful applicant will articulate what involvement/service/research/employment/study has made the most significant impact on their life, how they have made a contribution to a community during their time at Ohio State, what challenges they faced during their time as a college student, and how involvement has influenced their plans after graduation. Students must apply on their own behalf for this award.

Application Requirements: Online application, resume, recommendation letter

Outstanding Graduate /Professional Student Award

Among the highest honors conferred to graduate and professional students, this award recognizes those who have made outstanding contributions in leadership and service outside their academic program. Students should also have demonstrated the ability to balance scholarship with their leadership and involvement.

OFFICE OF STUDENT LIFE

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Eligibility includes graduate and professional students who are currently enrolled in an academic graduate or professional program. Applicants must be in good academic standing with a 3.00 GPA or equivalent. A successful applicant will articulate what they have learned about “leadership” that positions you to be a leader within your community or professional field – and how you have made a significant contribution to a community during your time as a graduate/professional student. Students may apply on their own behalf for this award.

Application Requirements: Online application, resume, recommendation letter.

Kaplan Humanitarian Award

The Kaplan Humanitarian Award was established April 8, 1960, by Jack S. Resler in honor of Rabbi Kaplan to recognize a student who has been outstanding in campus interfaith or intercultural activities. It is presented to any undergraduate student who reflects an understanding and appreciation of human dignity in their efforts to foster involvement, programming, or education within the University community. The student(s) recognized should have demonstrated significant contribution towards intercultural, international and/or interfaith understanding during his/her time at Ohio State. Applicants must be in good academic standing with at least a 2.5 GPA. Students must apply on their own behalf.

Application Requirements: Online application, resume, recommendation letter

Dr. Ellamae Simmons Award

Born in 1918 in Mount Vernon, Ohio, Dr. Ellamae Simmons dreamed of becoming a physician. Throughout her life she faced racism and sexism. She was initially denied from Ohio State’s nursing program because of her race, but nevertheless joined the Red Cross and served in the U.S. Army Nursing Corps for more than three years during World War II. Following the war she applied again to Ohio State and was accepted to the Biological Sciences program. Dr. Ellamae Simmons went on to earn her Masters in Social Work from Ohio State, and her medical degree from Howard University. This award recognizes students who have demonstrated exceptional leadership and service – particularly with regard to issues at the intersection of race and gender.

Application Requirements: Online application, resume, recommendation letter

Stanley D. Gottsegen Leadership Award

The Stanley D. Gottsegen Leadership Award recognizes one student leader annually who has demonstrated outstanding involvement in co-curricular activities with a monetary award of $1,000. Students must be current undergraduate juniors or seniors involved in one of the following organizations: Undergraduate Student Government, Ohio Union Activities Board, Greek Governing Councils, Makio, or Ohio Staters, Inc. Students must apply on their own behalf.

Application Requirements: Online application, resume, in-person interview (letter of recommendation not required. Interviews will be scheduled with finalists after an initial review of applications)

STUDENT ORGANIZATION AWARDS -----

Outstanding Student Organization Awards

Ohio State believes in the value of student organizations and their impact on the students involved. Student organizations provide a niche for students at a large university and a means to develop leadership while serving a broader cause. These awards recognize student organizations that make extraordinary contributions to campus and their members through membership benefits, programming, service to academics, social responsibility, service, and contributions to the Ohio State experience. They have demonstrated the values of collaboration and conflict resolution. We recognize that the achievements of established student organizations and new student organizations differ, yet both contribute to overall campus involvement. Therefore, this award is granted in two categories. Organizations may only apply for one category:

- Outstanding Overall Student Organization: any organization registered with the Ohio Union prior to January 1, 2018.
- Outstanding New Student Organization: any organization that registered with the Ohio Union for the first time, or re-registered a previously existing group after two or more years of inactivity, on or after January 1, 2018.

Application Requirements: Online application

Student Organization Excellence Awards

In many respects, the success of student organization programming contributes to “Creating the Extraordinary Student Experience at Ohio State.” The excellence awards are designed to recognize student organizations whose work over the past year demonstrates notable accomplishments in these categories: “citizenship,” “innovation & change,” “operations,” and “values & purpose.” The application should demonstrate examples of work in the category on or after January 1, 2018.

- Active Citizenship: Demonstrated excellence in active citizenship can take a variety of forms, including but not limited to: direct service, community research, advocacy and education, political involvement, socially responsible behavior, philanthropy, activism, participation in state, national, or global associations, etc. The application should explain how the selected activity has served a broader community or cause.
- Operations: Excellence in operations refers to exceeding expectations in one or more of the following: financial management and fundraising, member development, member recruitment, use of technology, communications, collaboration, or programming. The committee will give special consideration to applicants who demonstrate work that goes above and beyond what is required
- Values & Purpose: What are the values and purpose of your organization, and how have the group’s actions over the past year demonstrated congruence with these values and purpose? How has this congruence strengthened the culture and purpose of your organization?
- Innovation & Change: This award recognizes organizations that have made noteworthy progress toward accomplishing/exceeding their goals, and articulating how these goals demonstrate progress toward the organization’s mission.

Application Requirements: Online application

NOMINATION-BASED AWARDS -----

Nomination Requirements: Online nomination form (separate from the general awards nomination form) completed by a University faculty member, staff member, or current student on behalf of another. Self-nominations are not accepted in this category.

Student Organization Individual Contribution Awards

This award recognizes those students, faculty, and staff who have made extraordinary contributions to a student organization through their involvement, leadership, and dedication to the organization and its mission. Recognizing that organizational success requires individual contribution in a variety of formats and at all levels, this award is presented in four different categories:

- New Member: A student who joined the organization on or after January 1, 2018. This member has demonstrated commitment and leadership in their first year as a member.
- Unsung Hero: An unsung hero is a student who does not hold a formal title/position of leadership within the organization, but whose actions/attitude/mentorship/ideas/etc. have been instrumental to the organization's success. This is a student who goes above and beyond their duties as a general member, and performs exemplary work that may not be otherwise recognized.
- Officer: A student who holds a formal title/position of leadership within the organization, (example: an active member who has been elected or appointed to a leadership role such as vice president, treasurer, or committee chairperson.) This is a leader who has empowered and developed their members and has demonstrated leadership in their role.
- Advisor: University faculty and staff members who advise a registered student organization. Additional consideration will be given to nominees for whom advising a student organization is not part of their job responsibilities. [Please note: Student Activities staff members and graduate administrative associates are not eligible for this award.] This advisor has gone above and beyond in their duties as an advisor and helped to facilitate growth and development in their members.

Spirit of Ohio State Award

The Spirit of Ohio State Award recognizes students and/or student organizations that represent the values, traditions, and spirit of Ohio State through their engagement in and commitment to the campus community. Ideal nominees are students and organizations which have added to the honor and pride of the University in a meaningful way.

Nomination Requirements: Online nomination form (separate from the general awards nomination form) completed by a University faculty member, staff member, or student on behalf of another. Self-nominations are not accepted.

DEPARTMENT SPONSORED AWARDS -----

These awards are sponsored by various university departments, and each has a specific focus related to that department's mission.

- Student Life Student Employee Award
On-campus student employment is one of many ways for students to get involved and build leadership skills. This award recognizes the contributions of student employees in Student Life offices. Any undergraduate, graduate, or professional student employed within Student Life is eligible to receive this award. Assistantship appointments are not eligible for this award.
