

Bodybuilding at Ohio State University Constitution

Article I - Name, Purpose, and Non-Discrimination Policy of the Organization

Name: Bodybuilding at Ohio State University (BOSU)

Purpose: BOSU focuses on creating a casual, friendly environment for students to explore bodybuilding, develop nutrition and workout plans, and achieve their dream physique.

None-Discrimination Policy: BOSU does not discriminate on the basis of age, ancestry, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, protected veteran status, or any other bases under the law, in its activities, programs, admission, and employment.

Article II – Membership

BOSU welcomes all students at the Ohio State University interested in exploring and developing bodybuilding skills. Students can join BOSU meetings at any time during the academic year and will be granted membership once they attend four meetings. Membership is removed when the member does not show up for meetings for four consecutive weeks.

Article III – Leadership Positions

The members of the executive boards appoint leadership positions when a position opens, and new leaders will be chosen from all members of BOSU based on their participation and knowledge of the subjects. Leadership positions last one year, beginning in May and end in April, with May being the election month. If an executive member is found not fulfilling their responsibilities or is in violation of the Ohio State University Student Code of Conduct, the rest of the executive board and advisor may, with unanimous agreements, remove the member from their position.

The executive board consists of:

President: The President acts as the primary representative of the organization. The President determines the schedule and topic of the club meetings and oversees the organization of large events. They should also serve as the direct contact for the advisor and other faculties, as well as people outside the Ohio State University, such as guest speakers.

Vice President: The Vice President (VP)'s role is to assist the President in running the organization. The VP deals with the organization's day-to-day operations, such as sending weekly emails, tracking participation, and serve as the contact for students and organization members. When the President is absent, the VP needs to take the role of the President temporarily.

Treasurer: The Treasurer's role is to manage the organization's finance, including the maintaining, allocating, processing, recording, auditing of the organization's financial activities and bank accounts.

Coaches: The Coach's role is to serve as a lead during weekly meetings and answer any participants' questions regarding bodybuilding. Coaches are selected by the President from experienced members of the organization based on their skills.

Article IV - Adviser(s)

Advisor(s) of BOSU needs to be selected from faculties who satisfy the university's requirements and have an interest in fitness or bodybuilding, but no bodybuilding experience is required. Advisor(s) are expected to review and offer feedback on the organization's operation decisions and provide connections and ideas to assist the organization in its growth.

Article V – Meetings of the Organization

BOSU hosts weekly meetings for its members. Members need to attend at least four meetings per semester. The VP is responsible for tracking the attendance of participants.

Article VI - Method of Amending Constitution

Proposed amendments should be written to the executive board and announced to all the members if necessary. An amendment requires the unanimous agreements of the executive board to pass. The constitution should only be amended when a serious concern occurs or when adjustments are needed to meet the university's standard.

Article VII - Method of Dissolution of Organization

If the organization needs to be dissolved, all assets need to be returned to its original owners and any remaining assets are returned to the Ohio State University.
