

CONSTITUTION OF THE SPANISH AND PORTUGUESE GRADUATE STUDENT ORGANIZATION OF THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

ARTICLE I – GENERAL PURPOSES AND POLICIES

Section 1. Name

The name of the organization shall be the “Spanish and Portuguese Graduate Student Organization of The Ohio State University”. This Student Organization is an autonomous organization self-governed by this Constitution.

Section 2. Purposes

The SPPO Graduate Student Organization at OSU exists for the following purposes:

1. To encourage participation in the Annual Graduate Study Symposium held each April at the Ohio State University.
2. To provide members of the organization an opportunity to serve as members of the SPPO departmental committees and to be the voice of the organization and the student body in said committees.
3. To serve as a forum for the presentation of Latin American and Lusophone culture, history, art and music at the University and to serve as a sponsor of social events for the student body.
4. To preserve and foster a sense of Latin American and Lusophone identity and consciousness among the University community.
5. To provide opportunities for continued professional development through conferences, seminars, and academic exchange with other universities and institutions.
6. To assist business and organizations in recruiting and promoting members.
7. To provide networking opportunities along with establishing a professional environment.
8. To achieve cultural awareness
9. To develop academic excellence

Section 3. Non-discrimination

This organization does not discriminate on the basis of age, ancestry, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, protected veteran status, or any other bases under the law, in its activities, programs, admission, and employment.

ARTICLE II - MEMBERSHIP QUALIFICATIONS

Any student, faculty member, staff member, or alumnus of any University division, full or part time is eligible for membership in the organization.

ARTICLE III - OFFICERS AND DUTIES

Co-Presidents: Three co-presidents (1 from Hispanic Linguistics, 1 from Literatures and Cultures, and 1 from Lusophone Studies) shall be elected, and shall work together in all efforts undertaken by the Spanish and Portuguese Graduate Students Association. Duties include holding at least one meeting per semester, addressing student concerns, meeting with Graduate Advisor, facilitating the communication of important information to graduate students, conducting elections, maintaining the constitution up to date, setting yearly goals for the organization, and aiding in the resolution of any issue related to or need expressed by the graduate student community in SPPO. Finally, the presidents may work to promote unity among students in SPPO, promote the department, and host activities related for the benefit of both.

Department Council Liaison: Must attend Department Council Meetings, held each month. Must attend semesterly graduate student meetings to report on the status of the council. The departmental council consists of departmental faculty, senior lecturers, administrative and professional personnel, and the graduate student liaison. The council meets at least twice per semester and discusses matters such as major departmental policy issues, faculty appointments, and graduate and undergraduate degree programs. Must attend semesterly graduate student meetings to report on the status of the committee.

Language Program Committee Liaison: Liaison between graduate students and the Language Studies Committee (LSC). May need to observe some classes and submit the Class Observation and Evaluation Form as indicated by the LSC. Could bring up any issues brought up by other graduate students relevant to this committee, including anything having to do with the language program. Must attend semesterly graduate student meetings to report on the status of the committee.

International Students Committee: The goal of the International Students Committee is to be an advocate for issues that specifically affect the body of international students. Among other advocacy actions, the Committee will support the international student community in their adaptation to the academic environment in the US, to the education system at OSU, to their program, and life in Columbus. The International Students Committee's task is to guide international students in their inquiries about how the Department of Spanish and Portuguese functions. Additionally, the committee is responsible of orienting international students to the appropriate organizations and entities they should use to solve any issues that may arise before and during their time at OSU. The Committee will organize a talk at the beginning of each academic year to welcome international students. In that talk, the Committee will inform international students about basic aspects of life at OSU, university expectations, procedures to obtain medical services, and any other issues that the members of the committee deem appropriate. The members of the Committee commit to staying up to date on the adaptation process of international students. To achieve this, the members of the International Students Committee will organize activities to have regular contact with international students.

The Committee's leadership will be made up of two members chosen in elections held by the Department of Spanish and Portuguese. Every student who identifies as an international student or with the issues of international students will be eligible to be part of the committee's leadership.
