Article V - Election/Selection of Organization Leadership

Elections will be run through an application process. For the positions that are up for reelection in the spring semester, members interested in the desired position will apply and be interviewed for the executive board position. The selection committee will be the current executive board with two selected active members to represent the general body of Teal Week.

Article VI - Executive Committee: Size and composition of the Committee

The executive committee will comprise Teal Week's executive board for the year and if needed for big decisions, the Founder of Teal Week, Lauren González.

For reference: "The Executive Committee (like a board of trustees or directors) represents the general membership, conducts business of the organization between general meetings of the membership, and reports its actions at the general meetings of the membership. In many organizations, this Committee is comprised of the organization leaders, chairpersons of the standing committees, and sometimes ex officio positions from related student organizations."

Article VIII – Advisor(s) or Advisory Board: Qualification Criteria.

Advisors of student organizations must be full-time members of the University faculty or Administrative & Professional staff. If a person is serving as an advisor who is not a member of the above classifications, a co-advisor must be chosen who is a member of these University classifications. The responsibilities and expectations of advisors should be clearly and adequately described.

Article IX – Meetings and events of the Organization: Required meetings and their frequency

IX. Two general meetings and attendance at all or 50% of events hosted may be required for membership each academic term except for summer.

Article X – Attendees of Events of the Organization: Required events and their frequency

Teal Week Constitution

X. The organization reserves the right to address member or event attendee behavior where the member or event attendee's behavior is disruptive or otherwise not in alignment with the organization's constitution.

Article XI – Method of Amending Constitution: Proposals, notice, and voting requirements

XI. Any proposed amendments should be presented to the organization in writing and should not be acted upon when initially introduced. Upon initial introduction, the proposed amendments should be read in the general meeting, then read again at a specified number of subsequent general meetings and the general meeting in which the votes will be taken, and should either require a two-third or three-quarter majority of voting members (a quorum being present) or a majority or two-thirds of the entire voting membership of the organization, present or not. The constitution should not be amended easily or frequently.

Article XII – Method of Dissolution of Organizations

Requirements and procedures for the dissolution of the student organization should be stated. Should any organization's assets and debts exist, appropriate means for disposing of these assets and debts should be specified clearly and unequivocally. Upon the official dissolution of the organization, Student Activities staff must be contacted to remove organization information from the website.

By-Laws

Article 1 – Parliamentary Authority Most organizations use Robert's Rule of Order to govern their organization's decision making except when these rules are inconsistent with their constitution or by-laws of the organization. These rules are of Western cultural origin, and based on the premise that "though the minority shall be heard and absentees protected, the majority will decide." A recommended wording is "The rules contained in [specify the source for parliamentary practice] shall govern the organization in all cases to which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the by-laws of this organization."

Article II- Teal Week accepts members full-time. Members do not need to pay a fee to participate. Members must be students at Ohio State University. The only requirement for members is that if they will be participating in teaching consent education to children, they must go through consent education.

Article III- The executive board will be chosen through an application process. If deciding to run for a position, they must be active members. The selection process will include an application and an interview. They will be reviewed by the current executive board and two selected active members. Executive Board selections will be conducted in the late spring semester. The same executive board for that year will also review resignations and impeachments, etc.

Article IV- The executive committee will comprise Teal Week's executive board for the year and if needed for big decisions, the Founder of Teal Week, Lauren González. The executive committee will review important decisions for the organization and how its operations are run.

Article VI - Advisor/Advisory Board Responsibilities Expectations of the advisor in the organization (e.g., availability, meeting attendance, support, etc.)

Article VII - General body meetings will consist of all active members. Executive board meetings will consist of all executive board members.

Article VIII - Method of Amending By-Laws Method should be similar to amending the constitution, however, by-laws are apt to change more often than the constitution, thus amending should be somewhat easier. By-laws may be amended by proposing in writing and reading the change at a general meeting of the membership and then bring the proposed change up for a vote at the next general meeting with a 2/3 majority vote of the membership present (a quorum being present).
